700 AT POOL OPENING

Altona's heated indoor swimming pool, completed at a total cost of $1,007,624 last month, was officially opened before 700 people by the Mayor, Cr. Les Crofts on Sunday.

The pool, on Lynch Reserve at the corner of Mills and Mason Streets, Altona North, has taken just over a year to build.

On Sunday afternoon, Cr. Steve Clement, council's youth, sport and recreation portfolio holder, welcomed visitors, and outlined the history of the pool project.

He said the council decided in 1971 to build an indoor pool at the Lynch Reserve, mainly because of its nearness to eight schools.

More than 5,500 students attend the schools in Altona North, representing 60 per cent of the district's total enrolment.

In addition, the council recognised the need for swimming facilities in Altona North, because of its greater distance from the beach.

Government grants made up $250,000 of the total cost of the swimming complex, with the rest coming from loan funds, community donations and rate revenue.

Mr Gary Bryant, director of regional services with the State Government's Youth, Sport and Recreation Department, represented the Minister, Mr. Dixon, at the opening.

No swimming was allowed at the pool on Sunday. However, the first to try the water was the mayor...

He braved Monday's chilly conditions at 6.30 am to be the first to swim the 25 metres.

He was followed 15 minutes later by the town clerk, Mr. Syd Fell, who decided to create a record of his own.

He is now the first to swim the full length of the pool — underwater.

Pool manager, Mr. Mike Ross is presently opening the complex between 7 am and 8.30 pm. He said the hours will be reconsidered in the light of public usage.

Paisley land vetoed again

Altona councillors have rapped State Government knuckles, including the Premier's, over the Housing Commission's Paisley project.

The Government wants housing on the old Paisley briquette dump, which adjoins the new Altona North swimming pool in Mason Street.

The council believes the Paisley idea should be abandoned on environmental grounds in favor of commission development on Truganina Reserve.

Altona Council has, for three years, tried to convince the commission, and the Government, that Truganina would be a good residential development site. The land is off Queen Street.

The commission has rejected that site as "totally unsuitable for residential purposes".

However, last year, the Urban Land Council proposed that 60 acres of the land be used for private residential development.

The rebuke to the Government is in a reply to a letter from the Premier's Department.

The letter, written by Mr. K. Green, department secretary, said that environmental criteria could be met with the building of 200 homes on the north-west corner of the Paisley land.

Despite two appeals to the Town Planning Appeals Tribunal, the Housing Commission, has so far been refused permission to build at Paisley.

The tribunal ruled that the land is too close to the Petroleum Refineries complex. Altona and Williamstown Councils, the Environment Protection Authority and PRA gave evidence opposing the housing plan.

Mr. Green said Mr. Hamer wanted council to know that the Government believed there is an urgent need for additional housing in the Altona area.

The environmental criteria would be met by 200 units on the north-west corner, because the site at that point would be 1000 metres away from industry, the Government believed.

OBJECTIONS

Mr. Green asked for council's agreement to the 200 unit proposal so that the commission's latest appeal to the tribunal could be avoided. The appeal hearing is set for April 19 and 20.

However, at a meeting of councillors on Thursday night, Cr. Doug Grant, seconded by Cr. Ian Stewart moved —

● That council express to the Premier its continuing objection for the following reasons:

● That the whole of the Paisley area lies within 1000 metres of PRA property, and that housing on the site would not meet standards established by the World Health Organisation or the EPA.

● That council agrees with comments made recently by Mr. Green that the best use for the Paisley site would be public open space.

● That council remind the Premier and the Minister for Housing that three years ago, in a deputation to the then Minister, Mr. Dickie, and the Housing Commission, council suggested that Crown Land at Truganina was ideal for housing. The area was ejected as unsuitable.

● That the council considers the Housing Commission has procrastinated by not accepting advice to consider Truganina and by persisting with appeals to the tribunal against advice from the EPA, the council, industry and the Board of Works.

● Council has not received any information supporting the urgent need for housing in Altona; however, it reiterates that three years ago it proposed the use of Truganina for housing. Council must therefore question the sincerity of the Government's statement that housing in Altona is urgently needed.

The motion was carried unanimously.

Girls bowl 'em over

Women's cricketing circles around the west are puzzling over this season's dynamic success story... and wondering if Altona breeds a special talent for the game.

In their first season of cricket, and with the majority of the players novices to the game, the Altona Women's Cricket Club is tipped to win the C-grade west final over the next two Saturdays.

The girls — the youngest at 14 — are unbeaten this season, and will meet Avondale Heights in the final at 1 pm at Maribyrnong Park on Saturday.

In their only other meeting, Altona won the match outright.

Says Jimmy Pond: "The girls have done this on their own. They have no regular coaches, help out occasionally, and so does my mate, 'Skip' Steven.

"But I don't play cricket. I haven't since I was at school, and that's a long, long time ago (Jim is 35).

"But these kids are really keen, and they practice. I'd say 90 per cent of them are still at school."

Jimmy is engaged to Kaye Stirling, 26, the captain of the team. They intend marrying in about two weeks... "after the final".

* Heather, 10-year-old daughter of Altona's Mayor and Mayoress, Cr. and Mrs. Les Crofts, gingerly tested the water with her toes after Sunday's opening ceremony.

Salvos' rates breather

The Salvation Army's two emergency-accommodation houses in Queen Street will be allowed a remission of rates by Altona Council.

Lietenant Ray Finger, of the Altona Corps and Community Centre, said in a letter to the council that the rates, totalling $355, would be "an exhaustive expense".

The town clerk, Mr. Syd Fell, told councillors last week that the houses were liable for rates of $193.89 and $161.23.

He said the Local Government Act precluded the properties being defined for rate exemption, but the council could remit the rates of the houses while they are maintained for their present purpose.

Councillors agreed to adjourn the matter of rate payment on the properties, and consideration of whole or part remission of the rates, until September 30.

Shootfest at Keilor

An Austrian - Bavarian - style "shooting festival" known as a Schuetzenfest, will be held at Keilor next month to coincide with Melbourne's Moomba.

It will be held at the Keilor - Austria soccer ground, and the main attraction will be a shooting contest with air rifles for men and women.

There will also be German-Austrian food, wines and beer and dancing.

A two - day function at the same ground last year attracted 10,000 people.

The organisers are hoping to double the crowd for this year's three - day event.

A schuetzenfest is held at Harndorf, near Adelaide, each January, and the Keilor organisers are hoping to arrange a national shoot-off between their own winners and those from Adelaide.

The festival will feature a wide variety of German - Austrian dancing, singing and entertainment as well as food and drink.

Souvenirs will be on sale.

The festival will open on Friday, March 11, at 6 p.m.

Chimneys an EPA demand

The new chimney stacks installed above the boiler room at Williamstown Hospital are an Environment Protection Authority demand, Mr. N. W. Maxwell said yesterday.

Mr. Maxwell, executive director of the hospital, said the Board of Management regretted the move, as it feels the stacks will lend nothing to the environment.

The new flues are about twice the height of those replaced.

"The hospital has always fired its steam-raising equipment with heavy fuel oil, and the EPA has now determined that to cope with requirements of the act, the flues must be increased to the height specified," Mr. Maxwell said.

"The board regrets that this, has become necessary. However, since the EPA has decided that it is essential, then the board must comply."

Mr. Gary Harley has sold out of the Craigatina Restaurant.

Gary and South Melbourne footballer Steve Hoffman, established the restaurant in Nelson Place, Williamstown.

Gary said yesterday he and his wife Pauline, wanted to travel overseas.

Steve told The Star - Advertiser his new partner in the Craigatina, is Mr. Fred Thomas.

"One of the things we will introduce, from March 6, is the Sunday roast dinner, and afternoon tea," Steve said.

"We hope that with this sort of catering available in Williamstown, more people from the other side of town will come over to look at the historic buildings."

"We will also be offering a three - course lunch from Tuesday to Sunday for $4.80."

He said both he and

Gary thanked the restaurant's customers for their patronage in the past, and hoped that "people will stay with us."

Support for cluster homes

Altona councillors will study the Model Cluster Code for housing over the next week with a view to its adoption, or adoption of a modified code.

The city engineer, Mr. Ralph Simmons, tabled copies of the code sent by the State Government, at a meeting of the council's planning committee.

He said the Government wants all councils to decide if they will accept a code for cluster housing.

Cr. Alan Shaw moved to delay matter to give councillors time to study the code.

Cr. Ian Stewart, commenting on the code at Tuesday night's meeting of the council, said he felt the cluster housing idea should be met with enthusiasm by councillors.

"Victoria has the lowest density of housing in Australia, and I think we should allow more," he said.

"This code will allow the cutting up of blocks into any shape for clusters of houses. You can have a rectangular block or even circular if you like."

"They're already allowing this sort of housing in New South Wales, the ACT and Queensland."

Door knock appeal to help hostel

The spastic children's hostel to be built on Apex Reserve will be one of the charities to benefit from a doorknock to be held on Sunday morning, March 27, throughout Altona.

The hostel is to be built by the Western Suburbs Spastic Relief Society.

The doorknock, formerly run solely by the Altona Council of Churches, is the only one allowed in Altona.

The appeal committee has this year been extended to include representation by service and sporting clubs.

A share of the proceeds from this year's collection will go to the Salvation Army, which is not permitted to hold its Red Shield Appeal doorknock in Altona.

Others to benefit from the doorknock this year will be Altona Hospital,

Help this house for children

The Williamstown neighborhood house for children is appealing to the public for material, generally regarded as junk, which can be put to good use in the house.

"Have you had a look in your shed lately?" it asks.

"What looks like a pile of junk to you could be a treasure trove for the Williamstown Neighborhood House for Children."

"High on the list of needs are manchester, cutlery, crockery and toys — in fact, anything that is used in a domestic arrangement."

"Nothing will be wasted, what can't be used by the co-op will be passed on to someone who can use it, and needs it."

The house, which is in Cecil Street, was bought with an Australian Government grant, and is run by the Williamstown Community Centre Co-operative.

The aim of the neighborhood house is to provide one centre where there is a mixture of services to children of different ages.

The co-op points out that some children may need to be at the house all day, others a few hours, and yet others only occasionally. There may be need among some for emergency care.

The co-op believes that parental and community involvement are the best guarantees that child-care services will be of good quality, and meet the needs of families using them.

The next general meeting of the co-op will be on Tuesday, March 8 at 8 pm in the Williamstown Town Hall committee room.

Interested parents and members of the public are invited to attend.

Gifts of equipment to the co-op can be arranged by ringing Lyn on 397 1103, Wendie on 387 7729 or Christine on 397 1758.

Ex-POW trader dies, aged 61

Mr. Doug Roper, a well-known shopkeeper in Newport and Altona, died recently after a long illness at the age of 61.

Mr. Roper served as both president and secretary of the Williamstown Lions Club, president of the Newport Chamber of Commerce (no longer in existence) and was also active with the Masonic Lodge.

He and his wife, Bess, lived in May Street, Altona North.

During World War Two Mr. Roper fought in the Middle East before being captured in Greece in 1941.

He was a prisoner of war in Germany, and became fluent in German. He found this useful later, when migrants came to his shops in Hall Street, or The Circle in Altona East.

Back in Australia, Mr. Roper founded the 17th Infantry Brigade Headquarters Association, which arranged Anzac Day reunions of wartime comrades.

He was made a life member.

Members of the brigade formed a guard of honor at the Newport Baptist Church for the funeral service.

Mr. Roper is survived by his wife, and children, Janet and Richard.

Woman councillor 'on the cards'

Altona could see a woman on its city council before too long, Elaine Grainger told the Mayor, Cr. Les Crofts, on Wednesday night, February 16.

Cr. Crofts was guest speaker at the change-over night of officers at the Altona Toastmistress Club.

In the club's vote of thanks to the Mayor, Ms. Grainger said that Cr. Crofts "may yet get a woman councillor from the Altona Toastmistress Club."

The Mayor, in his talk, said councils are the grass roots of government.

He said Altona council was able to keep annual rates at a low level because of budgeting, keeping to that budget, and forward planning.

Mrs. Rosser is the oldest member of the Newport Pensioners' Club and has been keenly anticipating a day trip to Rosebud today.

She was born in Eaglehawk, near Bendigo, and is the last surviving member of the Bottoms family. She has an amazing memory of early life at Eaglehawk.

Mrs. Rosser has two sons, two daughters, 10 grandchildren and 24 great-grandchildren.

She lives with her youngest daughter, Mrs. Enid Spicer, and grand-daughter, Gaylene.

Pier Street parade to begin activities day

More than 45 groups will take part in Altona's "activities day", which will start with a parade, including floats, through the Pier Street shopping centre.

The day is planned for Sunday, March 20.

The parade is timed to begin at 12.30 pm from the beach end of Pier Street, and those taking part will make their way up to Civic Parade and down Fresno Street to Cherry Lake.

The activities day is the brain-child of Altona's recreation officer, Denis Morgan, and the city's Recreation Advisory Committee — 10 people representing sporting, yachting, canoeing, and groups in the district.

"The idea is to bring people together, and to let what is available in the way of recreation in Altona," Denis said yesterday.

"So far 45 clubs and organisations have entered their names, and maybe we'll have a few more before the day comes round."

"There will be all sorts of activities down at the lake and in the park: sports, yachting, canoeing, scouts, cricket, football, hockey, soccer, the toastmistress club ... you name it."

"This will be the first thing of its kind in Altona. The closest thing to it that I know of would be the Back To Altona celebrations," Denis said.

Families will be able to use barbecue facilities at the park, although many people would be likely to take their own picnic lunches.

Organisations taking part in the day will have membership information available for those interested during the afternoon.

For any information contact Mr. Morgan at Altona Civic Centre on 398 2244.

Anyone wanting to join in the talkback — will be able to phone direct to the programme on 67 8653.

Guest panelist will be Dr. Bob Birrell, Monash University sociologist.

On Monday, March 7, between 8.30 and 9 pm, another English-language programme giving the opinions of several Williamstown residents on the Newport controversy will be held.

JOBLESS HIGHEST IN HISTORY OF CES

— Willis gives blunt facts to council

By John Dixon

A total of 2347 registered unemployed at Footscray office of the Commonwealth Employment office at the end of January: up 41 per cent on the same time last year ...

Only 53 job vacancies for men and 40 for women at the same place and time; 3800 jobs disappearing in the Footscray area last year ...

These are just three of the blunt facts told to Footscray Council at its last meeting by the Labor MHR for Gellibrand, Mr. Ralph Willis of Williams-town.

Mr. Willis accepted an invitation from the council to discuss unemployment — and he pulled no punches.

The overall unemployed position was the worst since the Commonwealth Employment Service began operating, in 1946, he said.

On a national level, an 110,000 increase in the labor force in a year and an increase of only 4000 jobs available.

Biggest reason for the situation, Mr. Willis said, was a decline in manufacturing industries.

This was caused, to a large degree by movement of employment opportunities to overseas, particularly South-East Asia, where attractive conditions were being offered to manufacturing industry.

The growth areas of unemployment were in the health and education fields.

NOT IN WEST

And these provided little opportunity in the Footscray area.

In what jobs were available, preference was being given to people with higher educational qualifications, Mr. Willis said.

Which left people with a low education in "a diabolical situation".

Footscray's situation, with over 2000 registered unemployed more than jobs available, was echoed in Sunshine's case.

The economy of the western suburbs was in bad shape.

Retrenchments and plant closures — such as the Angliss meatworks, Rothmans — had meant a total of 3800 jobs had disappeared in the west last year.

And the trend of industry to move out of the west was particularly worrying.

Consolidation processes, such as that undertaken by Rothmans, could be understood.

OVERSEAS

Nylex had moved to Malaysia. Australian National Industries from West Footscray to the Philippines. Wiltshire files had opened a plant in the Philippines.

In the latter's case, there had been a promise no retrenchments would be made in the western suburbs.

But the likelihood of expansion in the west and resultant job creation was slim in view of the expansion overseas.

The Fraser Government had no intention of helping fight the programme by such means as the Regional Employment Development scheme the Whitlam Government had funded.

To the contrary, it had set itself firmly against job-creation projects.

Mr. Willis recommended the council appoint a YMCA out-reach worker.

For the $3000-odd a year it could mean young unemployed not becoming anti-social in their behavior, he said.

The council decided later in the meeting, to make this appointment.

INFLATION

To the mayor of Footscray, Cr. Vincent Verducci, who asked could he see any indication of a substantial reduction in inflation in the next five years:

"I don't see it coming down. I think it will continue to grow."

To Cr. Bert Heatley, who asked about the chances of the council starting a type of small RED scheme of its own and if so, would Government funding, even in part, be possible.

"There won't be a brass razzoo from the Federal Government."

Cr. Fred Maddern said Australia, despite having an Industrial Assistance Corporation, was one of few countries that did not provide protection for its industries.

Industrially, Australia was on a suicide course, he said. Where there any chance the IAC would review its policies?

"I think the answer's 'no'," said Mr. Willis. "They've made their policies clear over a number of years."

Australia needed industrial protection, but there was no way it could compete with such places as the Philippines, where wages were low and strikes were outlawed.

Vic. navy's first ship The peaceful man-o'-war

The Victorian Navy's mighty warship Nelson, named after Britain's greatest fighting admiral, had a singularly dull and peaceful career.

Doug Mills, of Castle-maine, says this in an article in the Williams-town Historical Society's January newsletter. Mr. Mills writes:-

Work was started on the Nelson in 1805, the year that her namesake fell at the most famous sea battle, Trafalgar. She was to be a fighting memorial to Britain's most loved naval hero.

She was the largest ship built in Britain up to that time.

Launched at Woolwich on July 4, 1814, she was 244 ft. long, 54 ft. 6 in. wide and weighed 2617 tons.

A crew of 875 was needed to man her.

She carried 126 guns — 32-pounders, 24-pounders and 18-pounders on three decks.

The Nelson was laid up until 1854 when she apparently did some service during the Crimean War.

In 1860, she was cut down to a two-decker, and lengthened.

She was fitted with a steam engine driving a single screw. Two 7 in. 68-pounder guns were in her modified armament of 72 guns.

On February 7, 1867, she was given to the Colony of Victoria by the Imperial Government.

She reached Melbourne on February 4, 1868, with a crew of 264.

In Port Phillip she was used firstly as a reformatory for waifs and strays — 350 boys a year.

In 1876 she took part in a mock battle with the Williamstown artillery batteries.

At this time she carried two 7" guns, 20 rifled 64-pounders, 20 32-pounders and six 12-pounders.

In 1881 she was cut down to a single-decker in the Alfred Graving Dock, Williamstown.

In 1884, during the Russian "scare", she was placed under the command of Captain Alan Broderick Thomas, RN.

In 1898, she was sold to private owners, who used her as a cold-storage depot ship.

In 1901 half the Nelson was towed to Sydney and used as a coal hulk. The other half was used as a lighter in Port Phillip Bay.

The coal-hulk half was broken up in Hobart in 1924.

Relics of the Nelson were auctioned at the naval depot, Williamstown, in 1908, and two of her anchors are still on display in Williamstown.

Guns from the Nelson were given to Ballarat, Bendigo, Castlemaine, Ararat, Tarnagulla, Hamilton, Bacchus Marsh, Echuca and Geelong West.

It is a pity the poor old Nelson is not with us today. She would not have the battle scars and the glory of England's Victory but she would have held pride of place as Victoria's first man-o-war.

SHE is no more but her "teeth" still stand sentinel in many a park.

Brooklyn girl weds at Sunbury

Brooklyn girl Barbara Anne Kersley has married South Australian Bernard Moore in a ceremony at Kismet Gardens, Sunbury.

After the reception, also at Kismet, the couple left for a honeymoon in Canberra.

Barbara is the only daughter of Mrs. C. Risdale, of Corrigan Avenue, Brooklyn, and Bernard is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Moore, of South Australia.

Bridesmaids were Janet Baron and Cheryl Hayes and the best man was John Combe.

Health education needs in west

A meeting of educationists at the Western Region Education Centre agreed that schools in the western suburbs need in-service health-education programmes involving parents.

Those at the meeting included teachers from Paisley and Buckley Park High schools, representatives from the Western Region Community Health Centre and a representative from the Sunshine Regional Office of the Education Department.

They agreed on four areas of priority in health education. Those were diet, and nutrition, first aid and safety, drug education (including cigarettes, alcohol and aspirin as well as hard drugs), common diseases and disabilities.

Lindsay Mead from the curriculum and research branch of the Education Department told the meeting that there was a need to cover all areas of health education in schools, not simply sexuality.

Other points raised in discussion included the need to consider guidelines for health education programmes and to establish what local resources are available.

The question of people's rights and the legal status of adolescents was also raised.

Director of the Western Region Education Centre, Mr. Colin Thorpe, said, "We need to adopt a positive approach to health education in the west".

proposes to develop the land on the east side of Victoria Street that is zoned Reserved Living, for permission to erect a house thereon.

The developer desires that a caretaker be on the site during the currency of earthworks, and road and building construction activities.

The Board of Works will be advised that council offers no objection to the granting of a permit subject to the usual conditions applicable to land use permits for houses in the Altona Meadows area, and also that the house be connected to a reticulated sewerage system when it is available.

Correction

Last week, The Star wrongly stated that Guys and Dolls was to be staged by the Altona Drama Group in late April, early May.

The production is to be presented by the Altona City Theatre, and will run for three nights at the end of April, and another three at the start of May.

HEEL POSITION THROUGHOUT SWING

I won't say that your left heel should be firmly planted throughout your swing. That would be expecting too much of most golfers, myself included.

I will say, however, that the lifting the heel should be kept to a minimum. Lifting it too high (see illustration #1) may result in over-shifting your weight onto the right foot. This causes an excessive turning of the hips and could mean over-swinging.

The modern backswing is relatively short and compact. Most of the weight stays on the left foot throughout the backswing, with very little cocking and flipping of the wrists at the top of it. This requires only a slight lifting of the heel (illustration #2). It all adds up to a simpler, more efficient swing with maximum club control.

Gulls face first practice match

Williamstown footballers will play their first full-scale practice match against Sunshine on Sunday.

Rams take a slide

Newport Rams baseballers have dropped the points in their past two games to loose top spot on the ladder.

On Wednesday, they allowed Coburg to take a 5-0 lead before they fought back to score three runs.

Errors were again costly in this game.

Newport 3, Coburg 5. Hits: Newport 8, Coburg 6. Safe hits: McKelvie 2, McGregor, Kennedy, Lynch, Simpson, Campbell, Ockwell.

On Sunday, the Rams took an early 3-1 lead, but turned in a loose innings in the third to let Waverley in for five — too big a hurdle.

Newport 4, Waverley 7.

Hits: Newport 9, Waverley 9. Errors: Newport 5. Safe hits: Harris 3, McKelvie 2, Campbell, Lynch, Ockwell, H. Bunting.

The A2 team turned on a dismal display against Waverley. There are too many players in the team who are out of form.

With only one game to play the loss could have finished any pretensions they have to a finals berth.

Newport 2, Waverley 11.

Hits: Newport 2, Waverley 10. Errors: Newport 6, Waverley 3. Safe hits: Maher, Cassell.

Division three east had a close tussle all day with Research, and went down by one game. More concentration is needed.

Newport 5, Research 6.

Errors: Newport 7, Research 3. Hits: Newport 8, Research 6. Safe hits:

Five local teams in aths finals

For the second year in succession, five Williamstown teams are in the Venue Athletics Finals this weekend.

The club's three senior teams, B, C and D grades made the finals as well as Under 17 (1) and Under 13 (1).

C grade went through the interclub rounds unbeaten.

The last round of interclub competition held on the weekend, was almost another washout, but seven Williamstown teams won.

B grade beat Richmond by 30 points. Ken McLeod won the 3000m walk 15:01. John Steward was second in 15:28.5.

Paul Jamieson and Shane Dooley were first and second in the 100m, with Paul winning on a 'dive' at the line.

Both recorded 10.9, with Brian Davidson third in 11.1.

Brian later won the triple jump (13.88m) and 110m hurdles (16.2).

Shane Dooley was again second, this time in the hurdles, when Brian piped him on the line. He recorded 16.2.

C GRADE

Shane ran a strong first half of the 400m against the wind to finish first in 51.0, clear of Paul Jamieson (51.5) and Greg McKay (51.7).

Both the C grade walkers recorded personal bests.

John Condon won in 15:44 with George Adams second in 15:47.

Graham Shaw recorded his best 100m (11.4) when he ran fourth behind David Jamieson (11.3) and Mike Iaccarino (11.3).

Gary Hall won the triple (13.18m) and Ian Jackson won the 400m (52.2) from Graham Shaw who ran another PB 52.6.

Barry Whear was second in the 1500m, 4:18.2; and Tony Farrar threw the discus 26.10m.

D grade beat Altona 77 to 20.

Cliff Barling won the 1500m walk in 7.45. Ian McKay won the 100m with a pb time of 11.6 and the 400m in a pb of 52.9.

Brenton Dodd won the high jump, 1.55m; Greg McVicar won the shot, 8.94m, Gary Hall won the 1500m in a pb of 4:28.

Paul Markopoulos ran his best 110m hurdles when he clocked 19.7 and Greg Kidd ran 12.0 for the 100m and 58.4 for 400m.

The sub-junior (1) sprint saw a very close finish between Matthew Webster and Bruce Orchard.

They were neck-and-neck as they crossed the line with Matthew getting the officials' nod for first.

Both were timed at 11.8. Lex Meaklin ran a pb of 4:40.0 in the 1500m; Barry McCready put the shot 13.80m; Chris Lowden triple jumped 12.68m and threw the discus 37.90m.

The under-15s beat EMH (2) 65 to 19. Brendan McKay won the 1500m walk in a pb time of 9:21.6.

Bernard Webster won the 1500m, 5:11.1 and Glen Hargreaves won the 400m, 62.5.

RECORDS

Competing in the under-14s, Alec Yankos broke two club records.

They were the discus, 42.76m and shot 16.23m. He also won the 100m in 12.4.

Walter Scrap won the triple jump, 9.62m and was second in the 80m hurdles in 18.1.

Under-13 (1) beat Sunshine 60 to 43. Mark Hughes recorded a pb of 9:02.8 in the 1500m walk.

Terry Martin won the triple jump with a leap of 9.97m.

John Barnett won the discus (31.95m), 100m (13.0) and high jump (1.25).

Paul Lowden won the 80m hurdles in 13.3.

Jim Kalisperis recorded a pb of 13.4 in the 100m.

In under-13 (2) best performances were by Paul Lowden 9.97 for the triple jump, Robert Evans 18.4 for the 80m hurdles and Andrew Robson 1.20m in the high jump.

In the 100m all three runners ran pb.

First was Terry Martin 13.8; second George Lieris 14.1 and third Robert Evans, 15.3.

Mark Hughes ran 5: 56.4 in the 1500m.

Season ends on low note for Seagulls

Washed-out cricket last weekend may have been fortunate for Williamstown who were playing Yarraville, but it put the seal on a disappointing season for the club.

The Seagulls now end their season with a one-day match at Chirnside

Park on Saturday against

Werribee. The players will then pack away their flannels and pads until October. There will be an after-season trip to Tasmania later this month.
